From the President

Once again our Bluebird fleet made a major impact on Hobsons Bay during the Winter Series. With eleven official entries it was the most hotly contested series yet held. It was won by Peter Roberts and Glenn Hall (again) with four straight wins and a second. However they did not have it all their own way as new-comers to Bluebirds, Dave Wallace and Craig Black in Drambuie, had two wins and a second with only three races completed. Dave and Craig bring enormous experience to our class having previously been national Diamond champions. I expect it wont be too long before we once again see the name Drambuie engraved on our perpetual trophies. Other race heat wins came from Paramour and Moody Blue who took out second and third respectively in the series.

However not all the impact left by our fleet was positive, with both Revel and Tandeka sustaining damage caused by competitors in the Brass Monkey fleet. In the case of Tandeka's major collision in Heat 8, we are very lucky that the crew were not injured. It will be noticed that next year's Winter Series 'Bluebird Cup' is scheduled for opposite Sundays from the Brass Monkeys for this reason.

Our very popular presentation night in April once again attracted around 50 people who enjoyed another well-catered meal followed by the presentation of trophies by Honorary Life Vice-President Max White. Our guest speaker this year was well known yachtsman, Tom Smeaton, who came up from Geelong to share some of his most exciting recent cruise around South America's Patagonia. Another highlight of the evening, was the presentation of a most beautiful half scale model of a Bluebird to Life Members Norm and Jean Price, for long and dedicated service to the Bluebird Association. See inside this newsletter for more about this.

One of our most recent social evenings included the AGM to which about 30 people attended. A more comprehensive report can be read later in this newsletter.

The Committee have all contributed to the draft content and structure for our website which is being designed

HAMMO WEEK (or a race report by a non-racing sailor)

By Alistair Sinclair

Reportedly Australia's largest yacht race regatta, some 210 yachts converged on Hamilton Island Marina for Race week 18th-25th of August.

Your reporter was "crewing" on Happy J a 42 ft Jeanneau. We were in the cruising spinnaker division along with other Jeanneaus, Benneteaus und das Bavarias mit spinnakers. I quickly deduced that our cruising Division was defined by the manufacturers as a yacht where 2 heads are better than one!

The first race out and around Lindeman Is. and return was on the Saturday so the day prior was set aside to prepare for some serious competitive racing. This preparation involved the following in order of importance:

1. Issue all crew with matching caps, T- shirts and shorts. ( all screen printed with a suitable Tax deductible Logo)
2. Attach sponsors flags and decals, guaranteed to be worth an extra 1-2 knots.
3. Empty all water tanks
4. Refer to all ropes as sheets, halyards, downhauls, uphauls, topping lifts, etc.
5. Remove dodgers, biminis and any other form of shade or protection from the elements.
6. Take on the appropriate amount of Voyage Ballast

(generally referred to as VB's) This was all very time consuming so a decision was made to spend the remainder of the day by discussing tactics rather than tire out the crew practising setting of the spinnaker. We also reluctantly decided to drop off the dinghy from the davits for race week. We had hoped to slot in some snorkelling if we were far enough ahead of the field during a race.

There were 6 race days spread over 8 days, all races saw the fleet cross the start line heading North with both Wind and Tide behind us, Rumour has it that the Insurance Blokes thought it would be cheaper for them rather than having 200 yachts all tacking up to the start line screaming "#*?^**!ing STARBOARD"

Our skipper revealed his Irish background by insisting that we eat our sandwiches 15 minutes before the start to reduce the weight on board.

Most days saw a good S/E breeze for the start and then generally dropping off in the early afternoon, one particular race saw us just reach the finish line as the wind dropped off completely. Skipper complimented the cook for the generous egg sandwiches that day allowing us to create a breeze and leave many other yachts languishing in the doldrums.

Thursday, traditionally a lay day for cruising yachts, is spent partying/ogling on Whitehaven beach, a beautiful 7km long gentle arc of wide white sandy beach with perhaps 150 boats of all shapes and sizes, all in beautiful condition anchored off the beach and well over 1000 people of all shapes and sizes, all in beautiful condition on the beach.

Friday's race start found us with wind and tide pushing us down towards the start line. We timed everything to a T, however we are all convinced that the Timing Box went to sleep and sounded the start "hooter" about 5 seconds late!! So just to maintain the peace we went around the start buoy and restarted. Reckon we were on target to win that race too!

Most races finished mid to late afternoon allowing the yachts to be tied up just on Beer O Clock. One Bavaria skipper I spoke to preferred a run home (mit spinnaker) so that he could get an early shtart barbecueing his Bratwurst sausages mit out ze boat leenink over".

The final race was around South and North Molle Islands. Back to Hamilton Is was the track for Division 1 and the IRC yachts -

Docklands Cruise

Our first overnight cruise for this season was to Docklands on October 6. Six Bluebirds and two other yacht types from our membership attended, amounting to 17 people.

Immediately after welcoming in the new season by participating in the HBYC Opening Day sailpast, the yachts all made their way over to the river. It was a glorious afternoon with an easy southerly to push us along.

We docked at the berths that had been reserved for us at Waterfront City Marina about an hour after starting out and decided the time was right for that honoured tradition of all cruising sailors – the sundowner. There's no shortage of eating and drinking holes at Docklands and we made a bee-line poste haste for Mecca Bah, a favourite of mine. In fact we were so speedy, that we had to send a search party out for Andrew and Karen Blackstock of Big Blue who we lost along the way. A few ales, wines, felafels and pizzas later, the world felt right.

After dinner, those of us who were staying the night squeezed onto Big Blue for a night cap before hopping into our own cosy bunks for the night.

If you go up to Docklands to stay the night, be warned, a healthy night cap is a must; we discovered in the morning, that those who'd had more, heard nothing of the nightclub, that kept the rest of us awake until the wee hours!

Waterfront City Marina is one of four marinas at Docklands and costs just $30 for overnight berthing. Free bathroom and laundry facilities are included. The Marina also has a lounge with TV and reading material that is currently only open from 9am-5pm, but there are plans to make it available to guests after hours.

2007 Presentation Night

One of the highlights of Presentation Night was the presentation of a half scale model to Norm and Jean Price.

Norm and Jean have been involved with the Association for more than three decades, have held officebearer positions on the committee and Norm has been our race starter for more seasons than any of our present sailors are aware of.

Our gratitude and thanks went to retired boat designer and builder Mr Kan Walker for producing the masterpiece model to a scale of one inch to the foot. Kan was kept busy at the end of the evening discussing the model with many of our interested members.

Also enjoying Presentation Night is Lee Blunt, crew on Gaylene.

The characteristic Pollywoodside Perpetual Trophy was on display at presentation night. The trophy is now residing in the cabinet at HBYC after spending some years at Royal Melbourne Yacht Club. It was used as the perpetual trophy for a non-

Bluebirds in New Hands

The Bluebird scene in Victoria continues to grow as yachts that have been idle for a while are moving into new hands, with their new owners keen to compete and cruise with the rest of the fleet.

Logan Stuart, new owner of Kotare, can be seen quite regularly out on the bay with partner, Cara, as they get used to handling their Bluebird and making her ready for the 2007-08 season.

Cara and Logan enjoying the 2007 Presentation night.

Drambuie has changed hands yet again and is now the pride of David Wallace and Craig Black.

David Wallace and daughter Sarah on Drambuie giving us all a run for our money during the Winter Series.

After a long absence from the water, we hope Motley Crew will soon once again join the fleet in the bay. New owners John Owens and Michael Hanel are working overtime to get her ready for the Geelong Passage Race in January. As can be seen below, family members are also being conscripted to help.

Liam Hanel gets to work on Motley Crew.

AGM and Winter Series 'Bluebird Cup' 2007 Presentations

Our AGM was well attended by about 30 people, who were rewarded with an interesting evening.

After the business formalities of the AGM, a short discussion was held on future activities for our Association. By the show of hands in response to some suggestions thought out by your president, the Committee should be kept busy matching action to words.

pride and enthusiasm for Bluebirds

Max White then presented the 'Bluebird Cup' Winter Series trophies and the winner, Peter Roberts made an encouraging speech from which his shone through.

Warwick Norman then shared his experience holidaying on a luxurious charter yacht in Croatia with his wife Geraldine. Once again, the HBYC data projector was put to good use, showing Warwick's stunning photographic images.

A delicious supper was organised by Vice-President John Owens, during which everyone socialised and enjoyed watching video footage of Alistair Sinclair, has purchased a larger yacht to allow him to cruise a little more comfortably. No sooner had he told the President of the Association that he would be selling his Bluebird Nunyara, than David Barnett, dinghy sailor at Williamstown Sailing Club, was beating a path to Alistair's door. David and wife, Heather, are already enjoying their new purchase, taking part in the HBYC sail past and cruise with other Bluebirds to Docklands.

one of the Winter Series races. The footage was shot by Peter Roberts during Race 8. It was amusing as well as enlightening to see various sailing techniques including "down wind death rolls".

by Andrea Drobnik. Andrea is kindly doing the work on a pro bono basis and we hope to have the website completed before year's end. We expect a website presence will improve our exposure to the sailing and wider community.

Since our last newsletter a further three Bluebirds have changed hands and enquiries from people trying to locate Bluebirds for sale continue to be made. Judging from the interest and enthusiasm shown lately we can expect a record fleet on the water in the coming season.

It is great to see our youngest owner willing to contribute to sailing management. Ryan Blackstock, owner of Jay has joined the Bluebird Association Committee as well as the HBYC Sailing Committee.

Did you know.....

According to a recent survey by Yachting Victoria, "the average cost of an entry level boat is about the same as a good bike".

for those familiar with IRC no explanation is required, if you don't know, then it doesn't matter, does it? All other divisions sailed a shortened course to the southern tip of South Molle and return. The Race Committee argued that the course was shortened due to the wind probably dropping off again, resulting in a long slow homeward leg resulting in many boats returning late. The theory goes something like this: if the wind drops off, the sails will fall away, this will result in many boats arriving home late and sales (of grog) will also fall a w a y . All in all a great week of sailing

Editor's note: Many thanks to Alistair for sharing this experience with us. Alistair is currently on another adventure with his wife Marilyn, on a narrow boat in the English canals. Hopefully we will hear about this one in the future.

Bluebirders on Stinkboats

Through government funding, HBYC was recently able to offer a heavily subsidised TL3 advanced power boat handling course. The offer was eagerly taken up by Bluebirders Ivan Knight (Paramour), John Owens (Motley Crew), Jock Nurphy (Secret) and Mike Grey and his crew Mike Kavanagh (Moody Blue) who were among the twelve who completed the course.

The aim is to share the crew work of the Shirley Freeman among a larger number of members. Race management requires on the water race starts, buoy laying and supervising yachts crossing the shipping lane. HBYC is most appreciative of the offers already made by Bluebird members to skipper or crew on the Shirley Freeman and to help with the Sunday Summer Pursuit Series races.

If you would like to help out, please contact David Judge on Ph. 9398 0003 or 0417 526 438.
